What to Expect

Individuals who have experienced trauma can have multiple responses and reactions to the trauma, including anxiety, fear, flashbacks, and many more.

With the regulation regarding Trauma-Informed Care going into effect on 11/28/19, this training will cover some important aspects of providing the best possible care to residents who have a history of trauma.

The following issues will be covered:

- Key principles of trauma-informed care
- Re-traumatization
- Assessment
- Effective interventions
- Regulatory expectations
