Changing the Results of Healthcare

SPEAKER: CHERYL BOLDT, RN
LNHA, SENIOR CONSULTANT,
MAUN-LEMKE

Cheryl Boldt is an RN and Licensed Nursing Home Administrator who offers more than 45 years of nursing and healthcare leadership experience. She developed her passion for healthcare at a young age when she first volunteered, then later worked as a Nursing Assistant at her hometown nursing home and hospital. Her acute care experience includes Intensive Care, Cardio-Pulmonary, and In-Patient Rehab. In Long Term Care, Cheryl has experience as a Director of Nursing, Sub-Acute Administrator and Corporate Professional Services Consultant. For the past several years, Cheryl has worked extensively as a professional consultant with Maun-Lemke Speaking and Consulting, partnering with healthcare organizations nationwide.

Skilled Nursing and Assisted Living Centers have taken the needed action to fight a global pandemic and have established the required systems to contain and prevent the spread of the Corona Virus. The never before seen challenges we have experienced in 2020 has made it more vital than ever to have superior staff in all roles. We know Health and Housing Teams can work together to achieve amazing success. At the center of the rapid change required, at the helm of leading through the challenges of sweeping change, is the Licensed Nurse. Licensed Nurses remain the 24/7 leaders in healthcare. There are no other professionals in any capacity who affect so many lives around the clock. Why do Licensed Nurses have so much influence? One could say that "LIFE is literally in their hands." Healthcare customers put the licensed nurse on center stage and rely on the nurse to do the right thing. By default, this means they count on nursing to work with and lead others in doing the right thing.

A committed nursing professional can positively influence customers, potential customers, co-workers, vendors, physicians, and drive the ultimate success of any healthcare organization at any time, including through a pandemic.

In this session, let's start by getting back to the heart of what it takes to lead others, and yet preserve ourselves to lead again and again over the lifetime of our careers.

Objectives:

By the completion of this session the participant will be able to:

- Identify the various ways people react to change
- Identify two personal leadership skills you feel you possess and can leverage in your personal and professional life
- Identify two personal leadership skills you would like to improve upon, and design a personal action plan to accomplish this
- Identify two systems implemented during the pandemic that should not go away and why
