State of Long-Term Care and Senior Living Sector:
An Update on Trends, Politics, and Expectations Effecting the Sector

Clifton Porter II, Senior Vice President of Government Relations, AHCA/ NCAL.

Clifton (Clif) Porter, II is the Senior Vice President of Government Relations at AHCA/NCAL. Porter has been serving the needs of seniors in the long term care field for over 30 years, beginning his career as an administrator in training at a skilled nursing facility in 1989, serving as an administrator of several skilled nursing centers from 1990 through 1998, and capping his operational experience as a regional director of operations for a large-urban market from 1998 through 2004. Porter then accepted the challenge of leading HCR ManorCare’s Government Relations Department from 2004 to 2013 as its Vice President of Government Relations and served on various state health care association boards from 2004 to 2013.

Now, serving as the top lobbyist in AHCA/NCAL, Porter works to promote the association’s legislative agenda. Under his leadership, AHCA/NCAL was intricately involved in many legislative accomplishments including the passage of the IMPACT Act, repeal of the physician SGR, implementation of SNF Value Based Purchasing, and permanent repeal of Part B therapy caps. Porter’s greatest accomplishment was leading the COVID-19 response negotiations with the White House and Congress ensuring billions of dollars in support for the sector during the pandemic.

Porter holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the Virginia Commonwealth University School of Medicine in Healthcare Management.

Using H/R Compliance to Make a Better Workplace

Kelly Murphy, Lighthouse HR

In the realm of today's work environment, it is not uncommon for leaders to face challenges in effectively conveying expectations to their employees. While the necessary tools for communication may already be in existence, they are often either not fully utilized or require refinement to maximize their effectiveness. Discover how seemingly routine employment documents can play a crucial role in enhancing employee engagement and ensuring consistent practices that not only fulfill compliance requirements but also lay a strong groundwork for both employees and managers. When these tools are clearly defined and consistently implemented, they serve as the cornerstone for promoting a culture of transparency, responsibility, and efficiency within your team.

- Learn how crafting comprehensive employee handbooks can set the tone for workplace expectations for employees, provide a consistent guidance to managers for compliance with labor laws, and mitigate legal risks for the organization.
- Explore the transformative potential of well-defined job descriptions, uncovering their role in aligning individual goals with organizational objectives, enhancing recruitment processes, and meeting tricky compliance concerns.
- Delve into the art of performance management, where effective feedback mechanisms and goal-setting strategies empower employees to excel, driving organizational growth and innovation.
- Stay ahead of the curve as we discuss the recent changes in employee laws including those set to begin in 2024. Gain invaluable insights into navigating legal landscapes, avoiding costly penalties, and fostering a workplace environment that prioritizes fairness and equity.

Kelly Murphy has over 30 years of human resource experience. Her expertise includes: employee relations, performance management, HR form creation/review, employee/management training, and workplace investigations. Her human resource certifications include PHR, SHRM-PC and Advanced Workplace Investigations.. Her human resource certifications include PHR, SHRM-PC and Advanced Workplace Investigations.

4:00 PM - 5:15 PM

Adapting Clinical Care to Meet Changing Population Needs*Nicole Schuh, Director of Clinical Risk Management, Vivage BeecanJenny Albertson, Director of Quality and Regulatory Affairs, CHCA*

The nursing home of the past is not the long-term care community of the present. The residents we used to care for are staying home or in lower acuity environments of care. It's time to learn how to adapt to serve the residents of today so can remain competitive while supporting our staff. Join us to understand what referral trends we're seeing and how to determine reasonable, calculated ways to expand our offerings.

Nicole Schuh is an experienced multi-facility nursing leader with Vivage Beecan. She provides advice and recommendations on regulatory compliance, clinical risk management, standards of practice and quality measures. She has spent the last 17 years in long-term care, beginning as a CNA, worked the floor as a Registered Nurse and served as Staff Development Coordinator. She served as Director of nursing in three different nursing homes before moving into her current nursing leader capacity.

Jenny Albertson, NHA, serves as Director of Quality and Regulatory Affairs at the Colorado Health Care Association. In this role she provides information, advice and counsel to nursing home and assisted living providers in all facets of operations. She also develops educational and informational resources for CHCA members. Prior to her role at CHCA Jenny served nearly 20 years as a Nursing Home Administrator in Colorado.
